

You bared yourself to outsiders

James Hart Brumm, 2018

PICARDY, 87 87 87

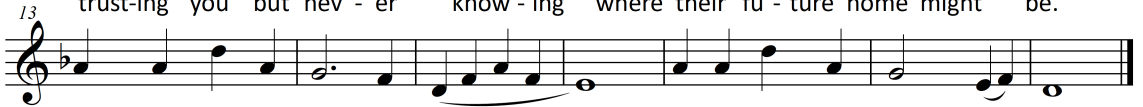

French carol melody

1. You bared your-self to out - sid - ers; though a child, you still were light,
2. You chose life ex - posed, pa - thet - ic, trust - ing in a mor - tal's hand
3. You re - lied on peo - ple show - ing they had strength to bold - ly flee, glo - ry gleam-ing past div - i - ders: one star sim - ply must shine bright.

to es - cape fear so fren - e - tic forged in - to hate's death - de - mand.
trust-ing you but nev - er know - ing where their fu - ture home might be.

Wel - come us, too, as in - sid - ers, and re - veal Love's match - less sight.
Wake us, too: bold and pro - phet - ic ref - u - gees who take Love's stand.
Call us, too, and keep us grow - ing in - to Love's dis - cov - er - y.
